good morning Nili...do you know when you are coming back to NY? We would like to try and rectify the chain problems prior to your arrival...

Sure karina can come in. Both windows with chain problems are in the bedroom. Just remember to call for alarm disarming.

Everything else - I count on you.

Ni Nili!! All good to know...we most definitely can get the chains fixed for you on the windows...would it be ok for me to send in Karyna tomorrow or Friday to determine the problem and possibly get them fixed prior to your arrival back?

Once you are back we can put you in touch with James or maybe even one of Jeffrey's assistants who live at the apartments could swing by to lend you a hand and a lesson...!

I hope [REDACTED] will be in on Friday...she will be out tomorrow for medical reasons and let me know she may not be able to come in on Friday...if it is not Friday, we will get her in one day next week (probably more like Wed, as Monday is Labor Day and Jeffrey's main maid does not return from FL until late Tues...and Jeffrey is returning Tues...Don't worry though ...we will figure it all out)!

Hi [REDACTED]

We leave today. I arm the alarm. [REDACTED] told me that she will come on Friday, so she will have to call Rafi to disarm.

Thanks for the appletv - it seems much better, though we haven't yet got all the channels and possibilities.

When we come again I will have to get James explain.

There is also a problem with the chains of the window shields. It will also wait next time.

Best regards

Nili
