Great! Thank you Les

Will you also please let him know about her saying that at the US visa interview she had indicated that NY would be her first destination (just transmitting the message)

She will aka the French consulate, she has a multiple Shengen (French) visa.

She also asked if it would be possible to travel on June third (she has to be at the university in the morning on the 3rd and could travel after that). It's totally ok if that's not possible - then June 2nd is ok!

Please let me know if I should confirm the trip tomorrow with both of them! Right now both are "on hold"

She has the US and the Shenzhen visas! I asked her to double check about the transit visa.
Her only concern is that she stated that she was going to NY in her US visa application. And now she is going to Miami? I don't think it matters that much, but she is a bit concerned

Hi ████ …Jeffrey has asked me to get a ticket for ████ ████ from Moscow to Paris and on to Miami this Friday June 2nd return on Tues. June 6th…He wants her to meet up with ████ at the airport in Paris where they will both take the same flight to Miami…

Our Amex rep says ████ should check with the French consulate in Russia to see if she needs a transit visa…Natasha (our rep) doesn't think so , but requests her to double check…

Can you please pass this information on and have her check?
