

To: Marie Holahan [REDACTED]
From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Mon 9/25/2017 6:28:04 PM
Subject: Re: party...

YES!! The party does tend to go late!! For sure at 10 it will still be going. I would say at least to midnight! I love that you will celebrate the birthday of the priest who married you! So sweet. Please do not hesitate to come late!! We have some others doing the same thing! Would very much love to see y'all! Xo. Lesley

Sent from my iPhone

> On Sep 25, 2017, at 2:14 PM, Marie Holahan [REDACTED] wrote:
>
> Hey there friend!
>
> So sweet of you and Ike to always include us in your Texas BBQ party! As usual there is another conflict - ughh!! This year not my brother - believe it or not! The priest who married us and long term friend of Rick's is turning 70 - there is a celebration for him in the city that same night- Rick thinks we will go in and just stay for a couple of hours and then come home - Does your party go late? We could come as a "maybe" and come late around 10 if folks are still hanging out and we make it back in time?
>
> LMK :)
> xo
> Marie
>
>