FYI,,
The G550 will go into service March 9th,,
The GIV will go to Savannah March 11th for a 24month inspection to be completed by March 23rd,, Eric and JE will select fabric for G550 Divan after March 14th

See my email below that includes JE approval for SAV for GIV inspection,,and explains what is to happen for G550 completion,.

Thx
Larry

I spoke with Eric,,
He will be out of town March 9-13th,, he would like to select G550 divan material in person with you March 14th or later ,, he'll need to check Availability of a selected material, and also send for fire block certification. Eric recommends 2 to 3 weeks after you select a material before dropping the G550 for Divan fabric install, as well as Divan end cap fabrication., he will use your current foam for divan as oppose to making a second set of divan cushions. (I think it Makes sense to fabricate new cushions to save on Down time, maybe?),
With this information, Gulfstream in Savanah can start the 24month inspection March 12th to be completed by March 23rd to be safe,, virtually picking up the G550 and dropping off the GIV.

This way the GIV will be ready to fly when you decide to leave the G550 at Eric by April 1st, as long Eric has all fabrics in stock with proper fire certs,.

I prefer Savannah over Palm Bch,,, in the past West Palm Beach has always delivered late, I don't think we will have that issue in Savannah.

Do you approve of Savannah input for GIV March 12th based on G550 in service March 9th?

Pls advise,,

Thx

Larry
