

To: [REDACTED]
From: Lesley Groff
Sent: Thur 3/15/2018 6:11:09 PM
Subject: [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] Lessons Feb 12 & 13

Hello Lizzie. My name is Lesley and I coordinated the ski trip for [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] i...I understand you have emailed [REDACTED] re a lesson you feel she needs to pay for on Feb. 14th. From what [REDACTED] has explained, she and [REDACTED] took the 4 lessons we originally paid for (2 lessons on Feb. 12 and 2 lessons on Feb. 13). Apparently on WEd. Feb. 14th, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were skiing together where they 'bumped into' your ski instructor on the slope and he 'invited' them to join the group. They skied 2 runs with the instructor/group then went on their own way and finished the day. At no time did the instructor tell them he would charge for a day of lessons and they genuinely thought the short time they spent with the instructor was for free! Can you kindly confirm this scenario with your instructor?

Both young ladies say they had a tremendous time and enjoyed the lessons Feb. 12 and 13...but truly considered Feb. 14 an honest coincidence ..

Thank you,
Lesley