How's it going Jeffrey? I have 2 new pts with your LS spine since we last spoke....
Question as the calendar year draws to a close: Are you amenable to helping support The Institute for Music & Brain Science for 2019? There are multiple projects that might be of interest to you.

*One idea you inspired with your email to Robert Kuhn and me: A review on "Intelligence, Talent, & Creativity" in composers and musicians - I would prepare it as a report to you to address your specific interest and ideas on the topic with an eye towards having my ICM Talent book agent submit to The New Yorker - plus part or all of it could double as the chapter by the same name in my book....

Have so many things I've been working on in my book that I would love to run by you - not the least of which, some ideas about evolution; music, math and combinatorial rules; ordering time via beats and consequent predictability; and more!

Cheers,
Mark

P.S.

Just added a new patient who is one of [REDACTED]'s managers, [REDACTED] (he also manages [REDACTED]) - [REDACTED] has offered to broker an Institute proposal on rhythm and movement disorders. Question: If he sets up an in-person meeting, will you come with me to meet [REDACTED]? I might need you there in case I faint lol xxx
