oh boy...ok, well I have been trying the correct number at least...
Jeffrey left the house ...we will try again when he returns...not sure what time that will be!

Yes thats right! Really I haven't had any missed calls show up on my phone, it is probably this great cell service down here along with my phone that I need to replace!
Thank you [REDACTED]

I always call you first...just rings and rings and says you dont have vm set up...so then I email you! I tried you twice this last time. probably too loud to hear the phone ring also! I am calling: [REDACTED]...that is correct number?

Hey [REDACTED]
It might be easier to call me when he wants to talk because I am usually around heavy equipment and tools (cant hear my email ding). I just dont want to miss an email and keep the boss waiting by accident.
