I would suggest that for Joscha contact airline directly or change his flight online while you are away, it is already paid for. All he need to do is go to the airline web sight and enter record locator. Your thoughts?

Thank you,

He is to fly to San Fran with his family (they are moving there) He told me he may have to change his flights if the moving trucks, etc are not on time...I will let him know he can contact you if he needs to change stuff....
