Subject: Re: FINGERNAIL MAINTENANCE

I keep my nails very short when I have a UV gel manicure...I have them done about 1 time a month and leave on for 2 weeks then take off and let my nails rest. I don't think the gel is very good for them and makes them very thin (another reason I keep them super short...if I don't they just break and drives me crazy) I always go to the salon to have the UV gel done and go again to salon to take it off. I love it when its on...not so much when it is off...not sure best solution for mom but perhaps keeping them shorter would be better

Diana is agonizing over what to do with her nails. She has been using a gel treatment last few months and not too enthusiastic. Now nothing for starters as we go off to CO for the summer. Please let her know...

1. What type of maintenance do you use?
2. Where?
3. What is your level of satisfaction?
4. Any recommendations for Diana?

Thank you... the horny couple
