Hi again - I have received direction from the owner to go ahead and file for the CZM permits for the Barn structure using the conceptual drawings that we have developed thus far. We will use this approach.

So I will prepare that application package for submission. We should be able to use the same documents from the Cottage CZM application for this one as well.

Hi Mike/Daphne,

Regarding the barn building project, a selection needs to be made for the steel building manufacturer. We cannot move forward with the design and permitting submission without the steel structure package from the manufacturer.

Thank you,

Good day,

I was following up to see if a steel building manufacturer has been selected for the Barn Building as yet, so that we can move forward with the design of this project.

Please let me know - thanks!
