Thanks. How's the bathroom looking?

I think you could definitely use some new radiator covers, so now would be the time to do them before painting. I did tell Penn to go ahead, but I've asked him to send me a photo of the grill he plans to use because I want it to be modern, not one of the old traditional looking patterns.
Are you happy with him doing the new covers?

Just want to ask you about radiator covers for 8H, when I spoke with Anthony I said to him to leave it as it is, as it appeared quite expensive to put new ones, but the Penn told me today, that he has got your approval to put the new ones, is that right?

Also there is one bookcase from the store called Lazzoni, that I had to cancel, as they have changed its design, so there should be a full refund on your credit card.

And also Penn said that they should be done on Thursday with the bathroom in 8H, so painting can get started on Friday.
