Hi Lesley,

It is very unfortunate but I=absolutely understand... Jeffrey is being very sweet letting us stay longe=;) I spoke to my roommate, we will stay and move by the end of the month. [REDACTED] is leaving next weekend for Christmas to see her family and if we move n=w, it's only me who will have to sleep on the floor and be surro=nded by boxes so we decided to move when she comes back. I hope new furnut=re will arrive by that time;) Thank you very much Lesley f=r talking to Jeffrey and trying to move things forward!

Have great weekend!;)

Hi [REDACTED]...I have spoken with Jeffrey regarding you wanting to mo=e this weekend and the furniture you would like to take...unfortunat=ly, we just can't let the furniture go yet...the Artefacto f=rniture is not expected for weeks...if we let you take the 2 beds, e=c, we would be down 2 apartments...I'm so sorry, but Jeffrey=requests you just stay in 10B for the time being...the minute we get=the new furniture and we can swap it out, it is yours...no problem.<=r>

I'm sure this will not make you happy and I don't know what=happens to the apartment you have found...If you want to move =his weekend it is entirely up to you...but it sounds like you wouldn=E2 t have much furniture to live with.
