Apparently the blankets and sheets went back to plane already from before.
So should I just get Janusz to put out a set of silverware?

She did take the sheets and some blankets and clothes to house to be washed which Louella says is at the house now. I have no idea what she would have done with the silver. I vaguely recall her talking about it and would think she would bring to house as well if it needed cleaning.

Janusz said its not at the house. He said there was only towels sheets and some clothes brought over to be washed. Would it have gotten washed at the FBO by chance?

We can always borrow a set from the PB house

I am not sure about silverware either. I remember in the summer it was there but needed to be washed. Maybe Janush has it at the house?

I have no idea! I know I keep asking, but when do you think we will know for sure? Just so I know when to start prepping and how to prep!
