Its very exciting to see all these emails coming in. I am pretty geared up =or everything.

I will have some restaurant menus pri=ted for JE as he requested for him to look at when he arrives, as well as =ome proposed menus for the up coming breakfast, lunch and dinners.

I will be here tomorrow ready with snacks when he arriv=s. Should I plan on a light dinner for tomorrow as well? and around what t=me can I expect JE to be at the house?

[REDACTED] I know JE likes flowers around the house when he is here and that is usu=lly your thing. Should we have some around tomorrow so there is something =ere just to get us through till you return on Monday? Is that something we=can ask of Lynn? Or I can help out as well...
