Something is definitely strange. None of Lesley's emails showed up on my phone during the day, until I typed in her name in search just now and then all of them appeared as new emails...

If they were sent during the time Google had blocked your phone, they'll be delayed and delivered the next time your phone's Mail.app is opened & catches up.

If she's not getting these messages for example, it's not related and will require further exploration (most likely on the iCloud side, for example).
