I called international group from Bloomingdales and was told that we need to fill out a special form to avoid sales tax. After I had a conversation with Jacquie (sales person in PB), she will find out more about it and will get back to me. She has my email and phone number. We would not be charged tax if shipment would go directly to tropical. But delivery to tropical will be much later than June 8. Jacquie also mentioned that possible we will need to provide bill of lading. It will take a little time and paperwork but credit will be received. Will keep you posted.

Thank you,
Bella
