Hi Richard. Good afternoon.

Somehow I have not been informed about =our call.

In regards of sales =axes, it can be reimbursed after client presents bill of lading, =roving items have left the state (bill of lading needs to have the =ame name found in the order) it's usually provided by the =hipping company
. Or client can also provide Florida resale certificate =018.

You can avoid shipping by having the items picked up at our warehouse. Let me know if that works for =ou.

We charge 5% shipping to items delivered around Miami =rea, orders with shipping outside Miami have a third party quote. =t's usually given by the transportation company we work =ith.

If possible please present the order shipped to NY (=ith delivery charge), so I can show it to our management to get =ou a better quote.

If you wish I can try and call you tomorrow for further details.

Best regards,
Manny DeSouza.

manny,

i left a few messages for you the past two days..

i would like to review the following comments below regarding your invoice so that we can proceed ASAP with this order..

a) attached invoice should not have sales tax as we are shipping out of the country via Tropical shipping and will pay import tax in USVI

 -> please remove tax of 2,406.20

b) shipping and handling of 1,636.87 seems very high to move from FL warehouse to tropical shipping

 -> in past orders we paid this 5% when orders went to NYC and were delivered into a home or residential apt

please review and call me on my cell phone anytime today 3-7pm or tomorrow 9am-12pm or 4-7pm

thank you

Could you please add it to the invoice.
