Ok then in that case I believe I'm owed 3 days but I started on a teus. So that would mean I owe you a day as well.

So will it be fine to return on weds. And then just go right through till I leave for the island?

Yes, you should be owed a day off for working on a holiday. Sorry, I haven't been keeping track.. how many days off are you owed? I will ask JE if it's OK to go ahead and book your flight on the 10th. If so, then Sue should be able to let you into 71st on the 9th.

Wanted to find out what day i should plan on returning to work this week.
Do I count working on a holiday as a day off?

Am I set to leave for the island on the 10th? If that is all set I will definetly need to be in the kitchen on saturday the 9th, so I would like to arrange getting in the house, will that be possible.

Thank you
Francis.
