Dear Alex,

We assume we are not the first to be surprised at a Christies Broker suggesting payment to a trust in the BVI re shares in a Lichtenstein co with no due diligence, no guarantees, no insurance, no title, relating to property in Morocco and bank accounts in the United States in an attempt to avoid both capital gains and transfer tax. The lawyers don't know where to begin as well, as the date in the contract refers to August of 2017. So this contract was drafted years ago and it appears no one was willing to sign, is that correct?

Thank you.

Best regards,

Karyna

Dear Alex,

Thank you for your email.

I am sure you are aware that this "real estate contract" is highly irregular for Americans. 1. It is not a real estate contract, it is a purchase of an offshore entity, creating many complexities for Americans. ♦=A0

2. There was never any discussion about real estate fees on top of the price.

We have bought many properties, including through Christies and a commission was always paid by seller. = The due diligence on a lichtenstein co. will take months.

4. We would have to be indemnified for all taxes due to morrocca= government on transfer and unknown liabilities of the co., especially as you might imagine, this purchase would be very high profile.

♦=A0

5. Is there a title on file? who would guarantee title transfer? If Christies is willing that might work.

6. We were hoping for a quick closing. With this structure it is not possible, and money would need to be withheld for years to back up the indemnity. It is very disappointing. We are told that liabilities would extend approx 7 years, so a payment of 10m day one and 2 million per year for 8 years might work. There is no perfect title transfer under your proposed structure.♦=A0 Four jurisdictions, real estate and corporate and disclosure rules in each. Can you make a suggestion?

Dear Karyna

The vendor will not accept less than 25m euros net to him - our agency fees can only be paid by you or by the vendor but if he pays then the price would need to be 26m euros.

We have a list of what items he intends to remove - it is not much but for example there is a Gauguin in the bedroom which of course he will remove - I will get this list and sent it to you.

It is not possible to only buy the assets and it does save you 7% in government taxes - your lawyers can check the company has no liabilities but I assure you anyway it doesn't.

If you would like to discuss any of the above over the telephone please let me know a convenient time to call you.

Normally seller pays commission, due diligence period to review cos books. List of items to be removed needs detailing. Taxes owed. Can we just buy the asset? How are we to know that the co has no liabilities?

Thank you,

Dear Karyna,

Please find attached a draft of the sale contract of the shares and some requested information:

= No transfer taxes. It is a share deal without transfer taxes

- =losing costs: Only our real estate agent's fees, 3% ex VAT

-=Time frame: As soon as the funds are transferred

- Due diligence: All the documents of the sellers company are available and this company has only one asset - Bin Ennakhil in Marrakech

- MEP, roofs =ontrol: No but can be done at anytime

Dear Alex,</=iv>

As you may already know, we are in negotiations on another property, so please provide as much info as you can, as soon as you are able to. Taxes on transfer, estimated closing costs, inspections, timeline. Has a recent MEP survey been done? Have the roofs been examined? If it is in condition, is there due diligence that has been done on sellers? =?

Thank you.

Best regards,

Karyna
