Dear [REDACTED],
Thank you for your response. I understand the frustration on your clients side, however PNG is very different to deal with.
Thanks

I have been hounding my client for payment. They do not seem in a hurry to submit since it took a year to receive the panels and you had their money for deposit that whole time. If I don't receive it from them soon, I will pay out of my own pocket. Either way, you will be paid. I'm asking for a little more time, as you asked continually from me.
Thank you for your patience.
