Greetings from Abu Dhabi!! I am in the middle of the desert at a hotel filled with foreign prime ministers, sheiks and the like. It's crazy. They have taken over the whole hotel for this forum they are having which JE was invited to! I am on the list of attendants under "Business Expert". Ha!! Don't know how that happened cause I'm not really allowed into any of the meetings. Someone asked JE what I was an expert in and he said hunger. Now they think I'm an expert in world hunger. It's pretty crazy, but kinda boring as we are stuck in the middle of nowhere. I'm going camel trekking tomorrow morning as that's about the only thing to do! We are going to Dubai tomorrow afternoon and then from there I don't know. It's a pretty crazy experience, but I still am longing for home! I miss my friends, my apt, my life! I've been gone for too much the past few months. I hope you are well and having fun in Arizona. We are both in the desert! I'm sad I will be missing your bday this year too. We will have a belated bday dinner when I return..whenever that will be! Miss you lots!! Xo
