If you want to bring by the new sample tomorrow, great! You can definitely start to mix the color for the bedroom. My contractor said he will be painting the closets and priming bedroom this coming week, so you should be able to start plaster next Monday

hi [REDACTED], if you are in the city tomorrow, i can bring the sample.. just let me know what time.
..and if they installed the cabinets in the closet, maybe i should buy the materials and mix the color, etc ..that's going to take some time eventually.. if they didnt prep(primed) the walls yet, i could do that, its not a big deal.. just that's going to take like one day..
