Hi [REDACTED]

I'm sorry to bother you with this, but since I sent the =ast email to you, James contacted me that he never received my parquet =esign idea. I sent him an email with the design on Monday with no =esponse and again yesterday and still no response. All I want to know =s that he received my email. Is there by chance another person within =our company who could help me with my project? I don't mean to be =ushy, but I'm just not quite sure why there is no communication still. =aybe there is an issue with James' =mail?
