I do!

I'd like to use Benjamin Moore Silver Bells 1458 in the main apt area and Metro Gray 1459 in the bedroom. All the trim should be white. and I think the kitchen and bathroom should be white as well.

There is currently carpet in the apt, but I want to check if there is wood flooring underneath it. If there is, I want to pull up the carpet. Ideally I think this would need to be done first, then paint. what do you think? I would need someone to pull up a corner of the carpet to check what's underneath first..
