Hi Karyna,

I hope that you are enjoying Japan to the=fullest.

There is=no dress code but you already know about tatami and zabuton at Tawaraya.

Short skirts and tight pants are not comfortable, I think=

Hi Karyna!

How about 7pm?<=r class="">

2016/0=26 8:40、Joi Ito <[REDACTED]> のメッセージ◆=B8:

OK, we'll arrange the 29t=. Keep the evening free. We'll get you instructions, etc. Basically= you will go, they will feed you. (Hopefully, you have no food allergies ri=ht?) You will be accompanied by geisha (In Kyoto, they are called "=eiko") and Maiko who will hang out with you. After the meal, they w=ll dance for you. You can ask them anything, about Kyoto, their lives, thei= art, food, etc. Many of them are very funny and interesting. Some don◆=99t speak English well, but some do. :-)
