Asia Week | Spring 2017

New York – in conjunction with Asia Week New York, the annual citywide celebration of Asian art and culture, Sotheby's is pleased to present at auction a diverse array of Asian works of art dating from the Neolithic period to the present day.

Leading the Chinese art sales is a highly select group of extraordinary Ming Porcelain in Ming: The Intervention of Imperial Taste, while Important Chinese Art features over 250 lots that represent all major collecting categories in the field. Following the spectacular success of previous auctions, the Fine Classical Chinese Paintings and Calligraphy sale brings together a strong selection of works sourced from around the world, including a captivating album by Bada Shanren.

Highlights from Indian, Himalayan & Southeast Asian Works of Art Including Property from the Cleveland Museum of Art include a curated selection of Tibetan and Himalayan Bronzes and thangkas, fine Indian miniature paintings, and classical Indian stone and bronze sculpture from the Cleveland Museum of Art collections. Charting the development of art practice in the Indian subcontinent from the early 20th century to present day, Modern and Contemporary South Asian Art showcases a wide range of fresh to the market artworks by leading Indian modernists. Complementing these two auctions is A lyrical Line: Paintings and Drawings by Francis Newton Souza, an online auction of works by renowned South Asian modern artist F. N. Souza.

The week will conclude with Saturday at Sotheby's: Asian Art, comprising a range of collectible and decorative Asian Art at various price points. Also ongoing during Asia Week is Sotheby's yearly selling exhibition of Chinese contemporary ink art, Different Paths: Explorations in Ink.
