Hi [REDACTED]

If you could just send us a signed =opy of the quote that would be great.

Thanks! =o:p>

Hello again.. I'm sorry for all the back and forth, but I had =lready shown Mr. Epstein your original quote, and couldn't go back to him to =pprove the new quote without the proper reason as to why it was much higher! To proceed with this order, do I need to sign anything; the quote, CAD, =tc? Thank you for your help..

Dear [REDACTED]

Brad has =sked me to review this. The reason is that the price has increased almost 5% =ince June, and we have passed this small increase on to you. =owever, after reviewing the history of this order, and keeping in mind how =alueable you are to us as clients, we will hold the old =rice.

OK, it's not really a discount.. we are just deducting part of a =redit we have with you; we still have payed that amount of =oney.

It makes sense that you referenced the wrong material at first, =ut still not sure why you are quoting $90 per square foot for this =ug(which seems extraordinarily high) when we were charged $85 per square foot on the =ast one with the same design? I would at least expect to pay the same =mount per square foot as we did for the previous rug? I just need to give Mr. =pstein a plausible reason why this one is going to cost more. Sorry for the back =nd forth.

Hi Sarah, I'm sorry I did not =eference the price correctly. In my initial quote I stated the goods were =ull silk however I did not charge for them, I was quoting another material, accidentally. The last quote is correct. Your cost however =s only $3240.00 after the discount is applied. Does that clarify? I am =orry for all of the confusion. Please let me know if this makes =ense.

Sorry, but in both quotes, you reference the material as 100% dull silk hand tufted, but now it's almost $5,000 more expensive? I'm confused.

Hello [REDACTED]

Do not worry about providing a =deposit at this time. We will send a balance proforma when the rug arrives =here in NY. As far as the price is concerned you are 100% correct. My =ologies for referencing the wrong material for this rug. The correct =rice, still reflecting a 75% discount can be found in the attached estimate. =lease excuse my oversight.

Let us know if you have any =uestions, thanks!

Do I need to fill out the amount of the remaining balance for =he CC form? Or should we wait to pay the balance once the rug is finished and =he 75% taken from our credit will serve as the deposit for =ow?

The rug should be exactly the same material/ type of rug the =thers are that we ordered for the 3 guest rooms from you =reviously.

On another note.. I'm curious as to why the price for this rug =s less expensive then the others we ordered when this one is larger in size? =ou quoted me $8,100 for a 12'x12' rug, and we payed $9,775 for a rug with =he same design, but 10'x11.5' in size.

Hi Brad. Rendering looks great. We can go ahead and proceed with =he order for this rug. What do I need to sign to send back to you to get =his going?

Also, the color in the rendering doesn't look right, but I'm =ure that's a non issue. As long as it's the aqua color I chose from the tuft samples I sent back to you guys.

Thanks..
