A large concentration of monjayaki restaurants is found along Nishinaka Street – just a few steps from Tsukishima Station. (Grasshopper)

*Dome City *Edo Castle / Imp=rial Palace (Tokyo) (?)

Japan's capital city manages to wrangle a spot in the list through a slight technicality, as Edo Castle was long ago absorbed into the Imperial Palace.

*Arashiyama (30mins from Kyoto) http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3950_arashiyama_full.html <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3950_a=ashiyama_full.html>

- Monkey Park on the south of the Togetsukyo Bridge. It takes about 20 minutes to climb the mountain to see the monkeys, and there are good views of Kyoto from the top. (90min=

- Cross the Togetsukyo Bridge and spend a few minutes viewing the bridge. Some of the best views are from downstream of the bridge. (20min)

- Explore Tenryuji Temple (45min)

- Bamboo Groves From Tenryuji walk to Arashiyama Station and rent a bicycle. Then, head into the bamboo groves behind Tenryuji Temple. Turn right as you get to the entrance of Okochi Sanso <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3912.html#ok=chi> and continue toward the Jojakkoji <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3912.html#jojakkoji>. (30min)

- Explore Jojakkoji <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3912.html#jojakkoji> Temple - best in autumn when the leaves change colors. (30min)

- (Opt: Nisonin Temple)

- Continue north and stop off at Gioji, a small, quiet temple known for its maple trees and moss garden. (45min)

- Continue along the main road until you get to Saga-Toriimoto Preserved Street <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3912.html#sagatoriimot>, a historic street lined by traditional townhouses (machiya). Explore the shops and restaurants along the way. This may be a good place to have lunch. (45min)

*Lunch

-(Opt: Adashino Nenbutsuji <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3912.html#nenbutsuji> Not to be confused with nearby Otagi Nenbutsuji, the Adashino Nenbutsuji <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3912.html#nenbutsuji> is another interesting temple in the area. It has hundred of stone statues as well as a small bamboo grove.)

- Follow the road past the preserved streets to Otagi Nenbutsuji, a temple whose grounds are covered in hundreds of small stone statues. (1hr)

- Explore Daikakuji. From the exit of Otagi Nenbutsuji, cross over to the larger, two lane road that parallels the road you arrived on. One block before the first traffic light, veer left and head through the rice fields and residential neighborhoods toward Daikakuji <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e3964.html>. Explore Daikakuji. (10min)

*Dinner

Thursday 29

*Nara (Full Day? Half Day?) (55min from Kyoto) <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e4100.html>
<http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e4100.html>

- Todaiji Temple is one of Japan's most famous and historically significant temples and a landmark of Nara. The temple was constructed in 752 as the head-temple of all provincial Buddhist <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e2055.html> temples <http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e2058.html>. (7:30a – 5p)

- Horyuj= Temple - fou=ded in 607 by Prince Shotoku, who is credited with the early promotion of&n=sp;Buddhism in Japan. Horyuji is one of the country's=oldest temples and contains the world's oldest surviving=wooden structures. (8a-5p)

- Isuien is an attractive&nb=p;Japanese garden with a variety of features, such as=the use of =span style="mso-bidi-font-family: Arial; color: windowtext; background: white; text-decoration: none; text-underline: none" class="">Todaiji Temple <<http://www.japan-guide.com/e/e4100.html>> 's Nandaimon Gate and Mount Wakakusayama as "borrowed scenery". Isuien means="garden founded on water", and the garden's name is derived from the fact that its ponds are fed by the small adjacent Yoshikigawa River. (9=30a – 4:30p)

- Nara Park

- Isuien Garden – traditional garden 1670=o:p class="">

(Review: I usually leave Kyoto around 8 AM. I'd arrive in Nara around 8:30 and walk t= Kofukuji (5 story pagoda,) Great Buddha and Kasuga Shrine. I'd come back nea= Nara Station and have lunch and head to Himeji via Osaka. I'd see the Castle and be=back to Kyoto by dinnertime. It's a easy day trip.)
