Hi Ion. I will be back on Wed night. Can't wait to see it! You can hang back the large square mirror that was above the dresser and the large square photo which was above the bed. The other smaller photos I don't think I will put back yet. And you can leave down all the ones from the living room. I will probably change all of those too. Thanks!

.hi sarah,

..how are you? i hope you have a good time on the island..or are you back?

anyway, things are going well in your apt..almost done, i thought we can finish tomorrow but we might need to work wednesday too..or at least in the morning..

we put the furniture back in the living room and now we work in the bedroom... then we have to do some touch ups here and there.. i was wondering if you want us to put the pictures back on the walls..or maybe you want to do some changes? we took off all the nails from the walls, but michael wrote down the measurements where the nails were so would be easy to nail them in the wall in the same places...

anyway, in case you are not back i will let you know when we'll be done thank you,
