Dear Ghislaine:

I don't know how to thank you. I am personally deeply moved and, on behalf of Seeds, utterly delighted by your contribution. Needless to say, the people over there are ecstatic and think I am a total rock star. It's really a wonderful organization that does amazing work. One day I will drag you, even if you kick and scream, to an event with the kids -- it will make you cry and realize what a meaningful cause you have contributed to. I'll give your regards to the great man when I see him there next week.

If you're back in the Caribbean, wearing some skimpy little bikini, I am more jealous of you than ever (particularly because I could never pull off the bikini part) -- it's freezing and sleeting here. Please let me know avec un peu d'avance when you're next in New York as I would love to get together en tete a tete, if and when your schedule permits.

D'ici la, bonne annee. Please transmit my warm and enthusiastic thanks and regards to Jeffrey.
