Dear Maxwell!

Where have you been and what have you been up to? You have made no attempt to keep in touch recently and I am concerned you are becoming a hermit!

I would love to be able to get away from here, but with this war on the media would go bananas if I was to be known to be out of the country whilst this was on. I am becoming frustrated at this slight caging!

I have just sent the girls off with their mother for a couple of weeks of holiday and I have made provision for spending time with them away but now that circumstances force me to be here I am 'home alone' for a couple of weeks!

Anyway sending you masses of love and hope to see you soon!

A (frustrated) xxx
