Thanks for the update. I have now pushed New York back to the 10-12. Celebrating my 30th on the ninth so I hope I make the flight! Let's keep trying...

I did not make it to London - a close friend died and I had arrangements to make. I also will not be in NY next week but will see if David can meet w/you

Hi Ghislaine

Hope all is well with you. Did you make it to London this week? I will be around all week and will then be travelling to New York from Sunday evening until Tuesday night. It would be great to meet with you there if that works better and, if possible, your friend David Wassong.

Look forward to hearing from you.

Magnus
