I just spent te day with Adian Zecha, who said: "I spend all of my days travelling the world looking for the one or two spots to build an aman each year, and I always know te answer within the first minute. When I saw this place, I knew."

so looks like we will have an aman by winter '06!

anyway, really hope you stop by on your way down. id love to show it off to you and to see you as well.

we are staying at hotel valero in cabarete, a few minutes from puerto plata airport.
