Such compliments - don't think that I am letting you off the hook so easily - you still called me a brat + an English one at that. To give you the list that Val came up with would be far too self serving. + I guess that means no time for poor Val? Such a sweet guy too! Sounds like camping is on our agenda this w/e then??? + can hardly believe that you took the photo of the ranch - it is in focus I can even see little horses when I zoom in ( well 4 legged somethings anyway) quite impressive for such a camera challenged person
