Among all my desires, that combination is pretty low on the list...

XOXO

Thank you - I'll call Stephen tom and see what he has available and then make a plan to come out and check out the local real estate. I'll let you know what he says, and then you can guide me as I really know nothing about the area - if there is a better bit etc. Now I have just made you my LA tour guide! I am going to go to London from here and then back to NY - can I bring you anything from London? I know you probably do not have the same Kitkat, cheddar cheese or baked bean problem I do - but you never know. My friends who come to visit me always bring a red cross (that is what they call it) food package for me

Kisses

Stephen Shapiro is the best agent for the beach, his phone is [REDACTED]...i think you picking a week to be in LA is a really good idea...

The only thing that i want from paris is you.

I am looking forward to seeing you to -

JE has just asked me to find a house to rent for 2 weeks (I am sure I will have to take it for longer) in Malibu in June. Who is the best real estate person to talk to - let me know. JE says I should pick a week to go to LA and look?

Thought you might like to know I am now in Paris - can I bring you back anything from here?

I didn't mean never take me, they were separate answers...

Definitely take me and I am really looking forward to seeing you.
