I imagine au contraire - he should be all over you - you I think give him what he wants and you could get a good deal too. He does only run the event side of that business though - not the invites etc - at least that is my understanding - But he has been involved w/Davos for large no of yrs so he is probably one if not the only person for you to talk to. + I think there is big money to be made from an possible assoc w/him _ I have ideas I want to talk to you about but only after I have seen him (that way I know if my ideas will even fly) FYI Alejandro is in town next week - Mon - Thurs

G

Look forward to seeing you and catching up

<blockquote type=cite class=cite cite>If we do the davos thing it will be his loss not to be involved, that is for sure
