Yes I am back in the US. I am in FLA and if I could attach sound to this you would hear the sounds of gently rippling water accompanied by some splashing. It is 88 degrees, there is not a cloud in the sky and I am in the swimming pool. Are you even a little bit jealous yet? I'm not sure when I will get serious again and go back to NY but I feel an all over tan is a must to tackle the still rather ominous cloud hanging over Manhattan. Polyp (read Philip) is pushing for my return up North and offering inducements, so we shall see. How was LA - let me know what your plans are if you can and if you know

See you soon I hope
