

From: "[REDACTED]" <[REDACTED]>
To: <[REDACTED]>
Subject: 17 more days...
Sent: Friday, June 1, 2001 3:28:17 PM

Ms. Maxwell:

Although it's highly unlikely that I'll live to retirement, I still think it prudent to plan. After all, I did survive the 2 year old pretzels, living on the roof of the blood bank and let's not forget the attempts by embarrassment. Eric said he is "working" on my retirement plan however I've checked twice and he doesn't have anything in place.

Most importantly, my $55K salary concession ends June 17th. This has been a long 4 months in many respects. (I'll have paid a total of $17,980.77 but who's counting...). Unless you'd like to be successful on an attempt on my life, I'd appreciate it if you would advise Eric accordingly.

Soon I'll have an office, technology, an apartment, my real salary and maybe even meet Charlie...

Thank you Ms. M!

Regards,
[REDACTED]