For non-collateral purposes (I.e., on our books), we do include sales tax paid or use tax that we are accruing as part of the "cost." &nbsp;

If a work is collateral=or is on our potential collateral lists and it is a new purchase - meaning=that it was purchased since 1/1/17 so hasn't been appraised yet - we include sales tax that we actually paid as part of the value of the work, but we do not include use tax that we are accruing but have not paid yet. The bank requires us to give them invoice= for collateral that has not yet been appraised and they give us "credit" for the purchase price plus any sales tax shown on the invoice, but not for use tax that has not yet been paid.

Once a work has been appraised, we carry it on our books and for collateral purposes at its appraised value.

When we value art at "cost", do we include the sales tax paid?
