Greetings =ich,

Contacted VIP Aquarium - unfortunately, the =ulse 80 tanks they have in stock are all in white and they have been =old

They have a black one on order, and have =een waiting 30 days so far - they are on back order from the =anufacturer in Canada.

Sophia's vendor - =altwater Paradise in Fairview Heights, Illinois has one literally on =isplay in his store - he has had it since August, and is willing to =ell it to us for $1,000 - originally sold for $1,300 - as he did use it =or a short period.

There are no signs of wear = Sophia will forward you the photos that the vendor sent =er.

Saltwater can ship the aquarium to Palm Beach for a cost of $125 - he is calling us back with the timeline for delivery, as well as cost and timeline for shipping directly to STT if we chose to go that route.

So, to summarize:

VIP Aquarium - new - $1,300 - back-ordered

Saltwater Paradise - slightly used = $1,000 - ready to ship out tomorrow to PB for $125, or STT depending on the cost of shipping

JE is currently not aware of the status - we would like to go forward with Saltwater Paradise - they have the black one and it is right now $175 less than a new back-ordered one - but we are happy to run both scenarios by JE if you think the "slightly used" status would be an issue for him.

Please advise, DW

Rich,

These are the pictures of the tank. He will of course clean it out for us when it's time to ship. He assured me that there are no scuffs or scratches on the tank. *Little note, the lights can change color, the pink or blue do not have to be used. There is a regular white.
