Subject: Projects We Love: Out on the Edge

"I want to stand as close to the edge as I can without going over. Out on the edge you see all kinds of things you can't see from the center."

"I want to stand as close to the edge as I can without going over. Out on the edge you see all kinds of things you can't see from the center." — Kurt Vonnegut

This week, let's toast to the extraordinary voices of those who create fearlessly, push boundaries, and encourage us to take a good, hard look around.

By Kurt Vonnegut Library

One of the most influential writers of our time, Kurt Vonnegut was a champion of free expression and peaceful coexistence — and a library and museum in his beloved hometown of Indianapolis is actively working to keep his legacy alive. Now, they need your help to move this vital space into a new and permanent home.

By Belarus Free Theatre

From a Belarusian theater company banned by its government comes a powerful performance featuring Maria Alyokhina of Pussy Riot. Per co-director Nicolai Khalezin: "The people who desperately fight for art, desperately say what they think, and sacrifice so many things are worth our solidarity and support." We couldn't agree more.
