Subject: Ledges / drink rail / lower side panels

Jeffrey,

I am working to get the proposal as accurate as reasonably possible. Personally, I do not see the benefit of modifying the ledges at the tables as you originally had spoken of. If you want them modified, then obviously the lower side panels will have to be modified as well to compliment the new ledge / drinkrail profile.

For bidding purposes I need to know if you still want to modify the profile. Please note if the "dual cup holders" are what you find displeasing, we can simply fill in the ledges in that area and cut out and procure single cup holders leaving a little more of the pear wood exposed.

Kindly let me know so I can continue.<=:p>

As I start to wrap up the wording of the proposal, I have questions regarding the modification work you have requested for the aft R/H cabin credenza as well as the L/H galley. I will try to get you a couple of drawings of the existing for you to review and comment.

Food for thought – I am heading to my brother in laws house in PA tomorrow and coming home on Sunday. "IF" you want, I am coming through the city and can have Adrienne drop me at your place for however long you want so that we can go over details face to face (vs. e-mail) so I can iron this out on Monday?&n=sp; Just a thought...

Best Regards,

Eric
