Dear McGee

Sorry I have not been able to get back to you. My state of the union speech opening of the parliament etc has kept me out of touch. Can we try to arrange a call this Thursday night same time. I believe it's 11 your time and 8 am Friday in Male. I will have some of my team with me.

Jeffrey is right we have one of the highest mobile user rates anywhere, although use of tablets is not widespread outside of Male.

The opening of parliament was another painful exercise but its done after almost 5 hours of repeated attempts.

Then the trial of former president Nasheed began with some street protests.

So it's been a somewhat difficult week.

Warm regards.

Waheed

Jeffrey (Epstein):

That was something that I also had thought of but the reality of being able to do something like that is going to be based on whether, or not, we have the internet infrastructure to support such initiatives.

Given the incredibly large number of cell phone users in the Maldives I would think that there is at least enough connectivity to be able to have the discussions around the idea.

You are correct in that being a very good approach. Utilizing iPads and other available internet tools, we could revamp several education initiatives to help teach a consistent curriculum and implement teaching standards throughout the islands and tools.
