Lawrence Krauss

<<http://click.e.asu.edu/?qs=101e95bcba0a922f693c0803345ffe14da70defa5cf225e3d7e65ce1e8f7514f>> , Director of the Origins Project at ASU, recently announced this exclusive and limited partnership with Insight Cruises, a preeminent scientific cruise and expedition agent. "Our intent is to provide a unique cruise opportunity to people familiar with the Origins Project; we'll be travelling to one of the most interesting places in the world, to a location that is on the precipice of experiencing dramatic changes", says Krauss.

Accompanying Lawrence Krauss will be Nobel Laureate and astronomer Brian Schmidt

<<http://click.e.asu.edu/?qs=101e95bcba0a922fa3aced4109eb887417ec2c097a7eb2b1f1de10a984d2529a>> . Both will be providing exclusive lectures, Q &A sessions, and conversations with Origins Project cruise members throughout the expedition.

"This is one of the most interesting times to be visiting Antarctica, there is so much happening in the world than can affect this region now and in the future," continued Krauss.

The cruise is scheduled aboard the Silver Explorer, owned and operated by SilverSea Expeditions

<<http://click.e.asu.edu/?qs=101e95bcba0a922ffbd3a3d081f96f7f2ceaa28a8c8fbc1aad3aaa7b851c5faa>> . With only 132 berths and a staff compliment of 117, the luxury, all-inclusive cruise will provide some of the most majestic views of Antarctica. "Silversea Expeditions are professionals in customer service and amenities, along with Brian and I, there is a staff of 8 world class naturalists providing additional insights, background, and guided tours." said Krauss.

The luxury Silver Explorer

<<http://click.e.asu.edu/?qs=101e95bcba0a922f3f50884766dbc4093811368040461f41558430612e969542>> ship is designed specifically for navigating waters in some of the world's most remote destinations, including both of earth's polar regions. A strengthened hull with a Lloyd's Register ice-class notation (1A) for passenger vessels enables the Silver Explorer Expedition Cruise Ship to safely push through ice floes with ease. A fleet of Zodiac boats allows Silversea

Expedition guests to visit even the most off-the-beaten path locations and an expert Expedition Team provides insight and understanding to each unforgettable adventure.

Space is very limited, "I encourage everyone who is seriously considering this unique opportunity to reserve your space now or as soon as possible."
