Hi Jeffery,

I want to =ive you a quick update regarding my studying.

I'm halfway thru the javascript bootcamp program. First half of the =rogram was extremely challenging as I had to learn a lot of information in=a very short period.

Right now we in a project de=elopment phase where I'm working in a team and building minimal viable=product using full stack (MEAN stack in particular). It is going well but = feel that I'm not as good as some guys who had previous CS experience= I need to practice more to gain confidence.

After the program I'm planning to continue to work on my own projects=and look for some freelance work.