Thank Michael.   Well, the dreaded time has come. I was to go yesterday, but I got a blow out on the hwy. I will come today @ 2 pm. I will ask Arnie to work 24/7 til the end. I believe he will. I have a call into Linda. I will write you all after I see Warren at 2 today. I am so anxious and nervous - I don't know if I will be able to handle seeing warren this way.

Should we look into morphine in high doses? Maybe we need to make this happen sooner rather than later.

I just got off the phone with Linda. I've been talking to her every day.
Warren's condition is deteriorating rapidly. As of last night he was hallucinating. Earlier today she found him on the floor and he wasn't able to get up Alone or with her help She waited for the assistant Arnie to arrive. Right now she's waiting for a wheelchair to be delivered. She's also going to request help for the nights as well She just wanted to review this with you She herself is truly overwhelmed I spoke with him last night and his speech is very garbled and his answers are somewhat confused. Just wanted to keep you informed I know Linda was anticipating that you Terry would be by today . Just think she needs reassurance that with it to support her and I have done that My senses seeing him is going to be very demanding emotionally As I Said speaking to them every day inviting her how to utilize and intervene with the hospice program I'll keep you informed
