I agree, lets try to keep him at home. His dignity is shot and =is situation is irrevsersable. Let him stay in his own bed and =ass in peace. This is still so surreal to =e.

Very generous of you . =e probably should be in a facility but he wanted to die at home. I'm =oping with basic 24 hour/around the clock assistance; the hospice =eam as needed, and my talking to her Linda will get through it. If =t becomes intolerable and he is truly out of it I'm sure he can be =oved. For now lets try to follow his =equest.

I just got off the phone =ith Linda. I've been talking to her every day. Warren's condition is =eteriorating rapidly. As of last night he was hallucinating. Earlier =oday she found him on the floor and he wasn't able to get up Alone or =ith her help She waited for the assistant Arnie to arrive. Right now =he's waiting for a wheelchair to be delivered. She's also going to =equest help for the nights as well She just wanted to review this with =ou She herself is truly overwhelmed I spoke with him last night and his =peech is very garbled and his answers are somewhat confused. Just =anted to keep you informed I know Linda was anticipating that you Terry =ould be by today . Just think she needs reassurance that with it to =support her and I have done that My senses seeing him is going to be =ery demanding emotionally As I Said speaking to them every day inviting =er how to utilize and intervene with the hospice program I'll =eep you informed
