As of right now the best 4k media player will be the new mac pro to be =eleased in december

Netflix is already streaming some movies in ultra hd itunes will be in the near future but so will allot of other no so well known internet sites and non-us =endors as well so to give you access to the most content in 4 k resolution I strongly =dvise the new Mac Pro Tower as a matter of fact it can delivery 3 streams of ultraHD (4k) at the =ame time

Apple because of its retina display experience, has incredible line =oubling to improve regular HD content in ultra HD of course Apple may come out with an ultrahd apple tv but as we know =his only works online not to mention the endless advantages a computer like this could have at =he zorro location

I am bringing this up because I doubt the sony team will
