I can't answer the question based the rain we =re having.
We do want to finish the project =s soon as we can for you.
Once we get =obilized I will try to give you a better answer on the remaining =ime.

Best=regards,

[REDACTED] I Have been =eaching out we have been calling to see if we can start tomorrow and =hat time can we gain access to the home for drywall work.

I just got a call back from the new person in charge of the =roperty [REDACTED] and he has stated the owner is still in the home =nd should be leaving sometime tomorrow.

We =ave pulled our crews from the job cleaning all areas and removing all =ools and equipment from the site to accommodate the owners.

We will do our best to have the drywall guys start once we have confirmation the owner left, although this is hard to ask for = favor at this point they will more than likely start on a different =project now.

We =re being delayed with out notice and will do our best to reschedule =ccordingly.

I placed a call to you please reach =ut to me when you know something.

very disappointing that you lost 4 days this week we were told 3 weeks for this job =nstallation and we are already at 4 weeks with at least another 2 weeks =o go i am in a terrible =situatiun as each time you give me information that i communicate to mr =pstein it proves to be inaccurate

i would like your dry wall guys and window installation guys =ll back on wednes=ay june 7th so we can pick up some lost =ime..

please confirm =ou will resume work on June =th
thank you

[REDACTED] I understand you may disappointed and for =hat I do Apologize.
It take a lot of time =o set up and breakdown we did this the owner to come back per your =equest.

All jobs are weather permitting, with the rain and wind we are only able to due so much again the protection of the home is a top concern.

Please note we have large amounts of tropical rain bands in our area.
We plan to be on site on 7th for set up and for the drywall will start on the interior.

We are scheduled for the 12th to start exterior stucco all weather permitting of course.

Installation to commence shortly - weather permitting.

Kind Regards,

[REDACTED] we will be finishing the =openings recently installed for the owner to use the home on June 2 we =re trying to get the exterior stucco and interior drywall =nbsp;completed at each of the openings that are near =complete.

Due to the nature of the residence we =reat the home with care, this takes a lot of time, we set up full =protection for each opening covering and protecting in all interior =reas. also we have been working with framing conditions that must =e built to except the strap required for installation and satisfy the =nspector on each opening.

This leaves 6 openings to be completed at this =ime.
please see the pictures attached if you =ave any questions please reply or call.

Thank you for your =usiness.
