just =anted to say that i love you i'm sorry i dropped off =n the conversation a month ago when you sent =e that email about me never =sking you for anything again it's not =eally about me asking you for things it was =eally about how I could find =ntersections where our lives could connect and =e could prosper. you just happen to have a =hit load more.

i just felt really hurt and =isappointed. it still doesn't make sense =o me but i'm content to be =iscontent with it now. can't keep on =ushing along a track that doesn't see to =ant to be. even though we're living =eparate lives its remarkable how much i still =ream about you (don't worry its not =lways good) and the other evening i woke =olt up right and thought what if jeffrey now thinks I =only care for him because of all his fancy. so =ust to set the record straight that's =rap, you're my true love and I only hope that one day i am =lressed enough to find that =gain.
